About The Human Conspiracy B L O G

Welcome to the Human Conspiracy.

You are invited to join the pro-human team, that subset of humans who are willing to stand against the anti-people forces that have emerged in this “modern” and “post modern” culture.

We Hold These Nine Things In Common

We may differ on a thousand matters of less consequence, but we share 3 priorities:

- Persons over things.
- Humans over causes.
- Humanity over “Gaia” and the other pretenders to Ultimate Value.

Our individual agendas may clash, but we share 3 essential human attributes:

- A common biological origin tracing its lineage back to the Beginning of life;
- Conscious intelligence, capable of empathy, foresight and creative innovation;
- The “same boat” fate: We are the only thinking, moral, creative agents yet found.

We each honor a heritage that includes 3 core affirmations:

- The value of civilization as our essential life sustaining social technology;
- The essential rules, norms and principles needed to sustain civilization;
- An Ultimate Source of value beyond mere tribe (whether named or not).

Warning:

To openly favor ordinary human concerns against the cultural tides can be hazardous to your complacency. Under current conditions, a reasonable, non-ideological the discussion of politics, life the universe and everything, is outside the so called “mainstream”. It is beyond ordinary irony to contemplate that ordinary people equipped with reasonable minds could ever need to form a “conspiracy” to promote sanity.

Expect to strike sparks with the crypto-Marxist, politically correct left and the unthinking, literalist right. Any intelligent argument coming from the common sense “middle ground” tends to do that. Of course, we reject the notion that the creative center is anything like the middle.
